2002 - A NUMERICALLY BEAUTIFUL YEAR

Palindromes in mathematics are numbers that read the same in both directions such as the years 1991 and 2002. We are the last generation for more than the next thousand years to experience two palindromic years in a lifetime. After this year, the next palindromic year will be 2112 which emphasizes the mathematical significance of this new year.

In the English language there are some very well known palindromic words, like eve, rotator, and reviver. There are also some well known sentences like "Madam I'm Adam." from Alfred Posamenter, Dean of Education CCNY

HAPPENINGS

The annual Christmas party for members and their spouses hosted by Stan and Denise Leicester at their home was a great holiday treat. The club wishes to extend its thanks to the Leicesters, especially Denise for the grand time and good fellowship that they provided.

Because of the shortened Rotary month in January and the expected absence of the Editor in February, the Binnacle for the two months will be combined in this issue. The next scheduled edition of the publication will be in March.
